Set of Scented Candles

Beautiful scented candles made by Maggie Schwind, Saint James Resource Room volunteer. These candles are 100% beeswax. 4" lavender pillar has lavender scent. 4" pink pillar has rose scent. 6" white pillar has coconut scent.

Acclimation Painting

Beautiful painting by local artist, Jeanne Meyer. The painting, Acclimation, is from a series of images drawn during a day when a favorite lily pond was stocked with Koi. The red, orange, cream and black marked fish arrived encased in water filled clear plastic bags. The bags were set floating in the lily pond as the fish became accustomed to the water. Once acclimated the Koi were released into the pond, their new home.

Jeanne Meyer began painting as a girl growing up in Virginia. She studied painting in college and architecture in graduate school. Ms. Meyer lives in Arlington, Virginia. Her paintings are inspired by nature and focus on the play between abstract, pattern and representational imagery.

Book Set

Enjoy some light reading with this set of books.

“Not Love,” a book of poems, is written by Marlene Woods, a Saint James parent. This collection of poems is about three separate instances of love and how the author felt and experienced each time. The poems are also appropriate for young readers as well as adults.

“Seeking The Center” by Leslie Sptiz-Edson, is a local DC author. Her book is about Agnes Demers, a young Metis woman who grew up playing hockey. For Agnes, hockey is the measure of all things - the ultimate test of passion and power, spirit and skill. But hockey has betrayed her, left her watching from the bleachers - all because she had the miserable luck to be born female. Locked in a dizzying three-way tilt, Agnes must seek the center: the balance to stay on her skates, the opening to make a play, and the vision to reclaim her game.

SCOUT Tote Bag

The tote bag that started it all. The Original Deano was SCOUT's first design (in 2004) and remains the #1 selling bag to this day. There's a reason for that - the tote is ideal for carrying pretty much everything. Folds flat for easy storage.
