Family Portraits by Erin Crum

A one hour family photography session courtesy of Erin Crum Photography. Erin is a natural light photographer specializing in portraits, modern headshots, and family lifestyle sessions in Northern Virginia.

This session is for your immediate family members and can be in your home to document the energy of your everyday life, or in one of the gorgeous green spaces this area has to offer. She loves working with young kids and incorporating playing games, jokes and movement into her session. She has learned that kids are their best when they have a little wiggle room. She will create a fun, comfortable and unstructured environment with posing and directing mixed in. These sessions are scheduled either first thing in the morning or about an hour to 1.5 hours before sunset.

The Skylight digital photo frame is the perfect gift for a loved one. There's no better way to put a smile on mom or grandma's face than to share a special photo -- perhaps a glimpse of your kids playing, or a magical moment from your exotic vacation adventure! Sure, you can share on Instagram or text, but grandma & grandpa get left behind that way. And even if mom has a smartphone, there's still something magical about having a physical home for your most treasured photos.
